

JSTOR Electronic Database
Archival Articles from Academic Periodical Sources
Or
“Where do I go for a really old journal article?”

JSTOR is an archive of scholarly/refereed journal literature in page image (PDF) format with full text search capability in a wide range of academic disciplines that include history, political science, and law, as well as Middle East, Latin American, Asian, African, and Slavic studies.

The "moving wall" concept allows for currency up to the last 2-5 years. Journal availability begins with the first issuance of each journal title included in the database.

Use Boolean operators AND, OR, NOT and enclose phrases within quotation marks. Print and downloading options are available.
